(While speaking, please turn on the camera if you can)

Where are you working?

What are you working on ?

Where have you heard about WoT ?

Meetups

Feedback on the general structure of meetups, i.e. a presentation and then a focused discussion on a topic such as smart home, digital twin etc.

Next Meetups

Making it strictly regular seems difficult. Proposal is to fix the Thursday afternoon 4 or 5pm and arrange speakers for these slots once they are available. Opinions?

16.02: Matthias Held - WoT @ SICK AG (Date and topic to be confirmed)

23.02: Jan Romann - Namib Project

Chat Tool Discussion

We had quite a bit of previous discussion on this:

- Philipp Blum's proposal was to self host a platform, that also has chat functionality.
- Possible platforms with initial analysis (Slack, Discord, Matrix etc.)
- Gitter: Indexable by search engines and has GitHub and Matrix Integration

New Proposal: Zulip

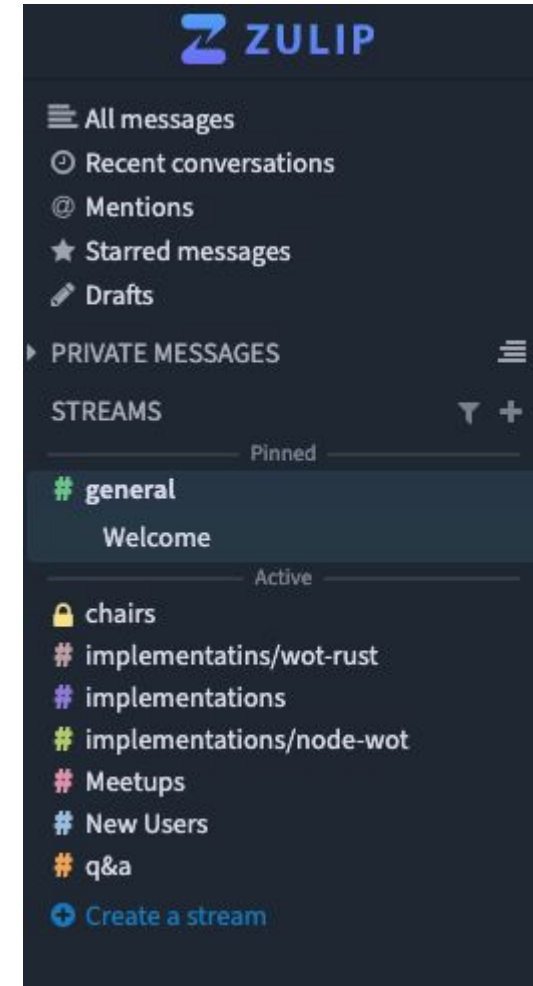

Zulip is a chat platform with open source code where discussions are organized as streams (like a channel) with a topic per message (like threads).

Our instance is available at <https://wot.zulipchat.com>

Some properties of our instance:

- Hosted by Zulip, free plan (can apply for “sponsored” tear)
- Channel naming convention: when we need cluster some streams, we will use `mycluster/mystream`.
 - You can see it at `implementations/node-wot` for example

Any points against it? Feedbacks?

WoT WG Charter - Past and Future

What is a charter?

- A document that states what a group will do for the duration announced in the charter.
- It is approved by the representative of each W3C member company and also the W3C management
- All the charters of a WG can be seen at their page, e.g. WoT WG: <https://www.w3.org/groups/wg/wot/charters>

WoT WG Charter - Past and Future

Let's have a quick look!

Please tell us your feedbacks but note that only WG members can actually change the charter

Office Hours and Feedback

We have started offering office hours for anyone interested in WoT to come and ask questions.

Kazuyuki Ashimura from W3C has mentioned that this term is used inside W3C already. We can change the name:

- WoT Q&A Session
- WoT Chat Session
- WoT Coffee Break

Note: The name is originally inspired by JSON Schema.

Regular Internal Meetings

Resolution Proposal: Email / GitHub Discussion

Resolution: Monthly meetings on the first monday of the month.

We will meet again on March 6th.

WoT Implementation Events

Creating an opportunity for communities around WoT implementations to meet and exchange. The first that can be listed (chairs are involved):
